

Supply Chain Management Policy

To maintain a sustainable development, Yang Ming is committed to continuously communicate with supply chain partners on matters concerning environmental protection, human rights and labor practices, business ethics and social welfare; and build up a well management mechanism. In addition, we will endeavor to promote and constantly improve the following items,

1. Abide by the laws, by-laws and control procedures. Work with suppliers to promote social responsibility. Focus on the economy, environment and society as the core of mutual development in order to achieve sustainable development initiatives. Move toward a win-win relationship.
2. Protect the interests of stakeholders. Apart from pursuing good quality, cost, delivery and service in the procurement process, matters including reasonable profits, social responsibility, labor safety, human rights and environmental protection are also considered as the basis of management decision and implementation.
3. Make business ethics, moral principles, equal opportunity and fair trade the primary guiding principles of supply chain interaction. Yang Ming prohibits all unlawful interests and sternly punish all illegal acts.
4. Assist local qualified suppliers to carry out material development and technology transfer, bring and expand the local shipping industry supply chain to international counterparts. Promote supplier's technical abilities and international competitiveness in order to fulfill our corporate social responsibility to support the local industry development.
